Distance Learning Delivery Methods

Blended Courses

Blended classes are a combination of Internet and classroom learning. Students will complete some of the required work online and some in a classroom setting. If you are interested in enrolling in a blended class, please contact the academic department to inquire about course requirements.

Internet Courses

Athens State offers credit courses that are available on Blackboard via the University's web site: www.athens.edu. An Athens State University faculty member serves as the instructor for the course, and upon completion of the course, the student receives credit equivalent to an on-campus course.

To take advantage of an on-line course, each student must have access to a computer with Internet access. The courses are delivered over the Internet and you communicate with your instructor via email. The content of the course and the workload are no different from that of regular on-campus courses. The classes meet in "cyberspace" via your computer and your Internet connection.

Minimum hardware and software requirements are as follows:

- Software: Internet Explorer 6 or higher and additional software as required by the course (MS Word, PowerPoint, Adobe Acrobat Reader, Windows Media Player, JavaScript, etc.)
- Hardware: Pentium PC or Mac OS 9 with 64 Mb RAM or higher and 56 Kbps or faster Internet connection.
- JavaScript must be enabled. Cookies must be enabled. Java must be enabled for chat.

Register for these courses as you would any Athens State University course.

Important Information for Distance Education Students:

- Some blended classes meet on campus for orientation, exams, labs, and/or presentations. Students must obtain a parking decal from campus security in order to park on campus. Campus security is located in the security building across the driveway on the right side of Founders Hall.
- Computer labs are available on campus for student use in Chasteen Hall. Some computers are also available for student use in the University Library and Undergrounds Coffee Shop.

Blackboard® Learning System Release 6.1

Blackboard is a course management system used at Athens State University to provide online access to course materials for every course we offer, including traditional, distance, and blended courses. It provides online tools such as class email, chat, discussion boards, quizzes, etc., that instructors can use to facilitate Internet courses or enhance classroom courses. All active students have already been assigned a Blackboard account. To access your account, please use your full Email address and your 6-digit PIN from your ASU Online account to log into Blackboard.

Upon enrolling in an Internet class, all students should immediately visit <http://www.athens.edu/blackboard/> for:

- Login instructions,
- Account information,
- Browser requirements.

Students who have never taken an Internet (online) class are strongly encouraged to:

- Take the “Should I Take a Distance Learning Course?” quiz,
- Review the Blackboard Basics online tutorial to familiarize themselves with the system, and
- Print out a copy of the Getting Started document for use in the class orientation session.

Student access to course work posted on Blackboard begins on the first day of the term as published in the printed schedule. Early entrance to your courses is not possible; however, students may preview the course syllabus by clicking the “Preview Course” button.

Blackboard Technical Support Center

Telephone support is available 24 hours a day 7 days a week by calling 1-888-7-ATHENS. A Blackboard Knowledge Base is also available on the ASU website with resolutions to most commonly experienced problems. The address is <http://www.athens.edu/blackboard/support.php>.

Advising

The Transfer Advising Center is located in the Sandridge Student Center. The Advising Center serves students planning to transfer to finish their junior and senior years. You may see the advisors in the Transfer Advising Center for your initial advising contact with the University. You will receive a Program of Study for your chosen curriculum and be assigned an official advisor. Your official advisor at Athens State University will be a faculty member whose teaching discipline is in the area in which you are majoring. Schedule periodic meetings, email or call your advisor and be prepared to discuss any plans you are considering for college and career. Your advisor can aid in selecting the proper courses. If you are taking courses at a distance, you can contact an advisor in the Transfer Advising Center via the telephone at 256-233-8276 or via email at Vicki.Johnson@athens.edu.

Career Services

The Career Services Office is located on the second floor of the Sandridge Student Center. It focuses on career development and employment. Register with the center to take advantage of the opportunities to assist you in seeking employment. The Counseling & Career Services Web Site offers assistance with resumes and interviews and provides a listing of job fairs and helpful links. To access the Career Services online, go to the ASU web page at www.athens.edu. Click on Career Services.

Veterans' Affairs

The Veterans' Affairs Office is located on the second floor of the Sandridge Student Center. For more information regarding veterans' benefits, contact Lisa Payne at 256-233-8124 or at Lisa.Payne@athens.edu. You may also go to the ASU web page at www.athens.edu. Click on Admissions. Then click on Veteran's Benefits.

Tutoring

Athens State University provides tutoring in the areas of math, English, accounting, information systems, and statistics through labs. You may contact the math lab at 256-233-6547, the Writing Center at 256-216-6670, the accounting and statistics lab at 256-216-5379, and the College of Business Information Systems (COBIS) lab at 256-216-5381.

Student Special Accommodations Request

Athens State University will provide reasonable accommodations for documented disabilities. If you are a student with a disability who will require academic accommodations, schedule an appointment to see the ADA/504 Coordinator, Maureen J. Chemsak, prior to the start of your first semester at Athens State. An interview will be scheduled to determine the nature of your accommodations. The types of academic accommodation provided by the university will be discussed in detail with you at that time. Information is handled with your confidentiality in mind. Call or email janice.owen@athens.edu at 256-233-8140 (voice) or 1-800-522-0272, ext. 140.

Graduation

Students must start the graduation process during the expected semester of graduation. Applications for graduation are available online at <http://www.athens.edu/admissions/records.php>. Students will be informed by the Vice President of Student Affairs in writing of their academic status in regards to graduation. Students seeking a degree must satisfactorily complete a minimum of 60 semester hours of senior college credit (courses numbered 300 level or above) in an approved program of study (degree plan and all specific program requirements).

Purchasing Books

Books may be purchased online from the University Bookstore. Go to the Athens State web page, www.athens.edu, and click on Students at the top right corner. Then click on Bookstore.

Internships

For more information on internships, please see the link on the College of Business web page.

Pre- and Post-test

The College of Business, as a part of its continuous evaluation process, has implemented a program to assess the business knowledge levels of incoming students. This is accomplished through a pretest to be administered in a required course, MG 320 Organizational Communication and Leadership. This course should be taken during a student's first term at Athens State University. New students who have previously completed an equivalent business communication course will take the pretest in GBA 300 Business Research Skills, a 1semester hour course designed to familiarize students with business information sources and library research skills (this course is required for students who do not complete MG 320 at ASU). GBA 300 Business Research Skills will be required during the first semester at Athens State University. A posttest will be administered in the capstone course, MG 420 Business Policy, which should be taken during a student's last term. For more information, contact Molly Pepper at 256-216-5352.

FAQ (Frequently Asked Questions)

Are all of your classes and degrees offered online?

The College of Business offers online degree programs in the following majors: Accounting, Management, Human Resource Management, and Management of Technology. The College of Education and the College of Arts and Sciences offer many of their courses online.

If I'm taking an online course, will I have to travel to the main campus?

If a course is listed in the schedule as an Internet class, there will not be any travel necessary. If a course is listed as Blended, there may be some times when onsite visits are required.

How do you take tests in an Internet class?

Most exams are given through a method called Respondes on Blackboard. The instructor will provide you with specific guidelines for taking all exams, including the exam's availability. Some Internet classes may require proctored exams. The instructor will provide details as to how the student may find an appropriate person to give the exam for Athens State students.

Is there a limit to the number of classes I can take on the Internet?

You may take no more courses in a semester than allowed for a traditional class load. The class hour load for a full-time student is twelve to nineteen semester hours per term including Summer Term. Approvals must be obtained to take more than nineteen hours. No student may take more than twenty-four semester hours per term.

Can I start an Internet class at any time?

Internet classes follow the same semester schedule as other classes. There are designated enrollment periods each semester that are posted in a published schedule or online at www.athens.edu.

When do I need to register for classes?

You must register during the allotted registration period. If you miss the regular registration, you may register during late registration and will be subject to additional fees.

What will I be able to do when I am finished with my degree?

The mission of the College of Business is to offer programs of study to students that will prepare them for positions in business, finance, or government; enhance the professional development of those already employed, and provide an academic framework for graduate study leading to professional positions. The purpose of the College of Business is to provide quality education for all students, teaching them to think independently, to communicate, to make decisions, to solve problems, and to be lifelong learners.

Are your programs accredited?

Athens State University, through its College of Business, is nationally accredited by (SACS) and the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP) to offer the Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree with majors in accounting, human resource management, management, and management of technology.

Where do I begin?

Fill out an online application by going to www.athens.edu/admissions/forms/php. Contact Mrs. Vicki Johnson, Counselor for the College of Business at 256-233-8276 or Vicki.Johnson@athens.edu.
