Regarding the Computer-Delivered Tests

- 1) Why is the test code different between the paper-delivered and computer-delivered Elementary Education tests?

The leading number in the test code for paper-delivered tests is a zero, while the leading number for computer-delivered tests is a five. The type of content covered on the two tests is the same.

- 2) How do I go about registering for the new computer-delivered tests?

You can register either by telephone or by Internet. To register by telephone, call 1-800-853-6773. To register online, visit <http://securereg3.prometric.com/professionalhome.aspx>.

- 3) What is the cost of the computer-delivered tests?

The costs of the computer-delivered tests may vary by test. You may review the most accurate and up-to-date fee information at <http://www.ets.org/praxis/about/fees>.

- 4) How quickly will I receive my scores?

Results for multiple-choice tests will be available immediately; however, results for constructed responses will be available with the official score results in ten to 15 business days.

- 5) How soon will I be able to view my score results?

For any multiple-choice test, you will see your unofficial results immediately upon completing the test.

- 6) How often can I take the test if I have not met the required score for my state?

You can retake the test once per 30 consecutive days.
